Someone once wrote many years ago: "A wonderful past is behind you. A future full of possibilities lies ahead. Overcome the difficulties which present themselves. Think of the ones that were surmounted by those who have gone before. With the remembrance of the mighty and their mighty deeds, give your best, your noblest, that the sacrifices of the past may not be in vain."

"Tis you who must make L-P better than ever.

Think about it . . .

To be "young and alive and filled with enthusiastic commitment to provide the very best in education" — and be 75 years old, too!

L-P was founded amid the rumblings of a war with Spain in 1897. It survived enrollment peaks and valleys created by two World Wars, and the population explosion of the Fifties. Through it all, L-P graduated nearly 15,000 students — 475 this June.

When we begin to talk "old times", people begin thinking "Old Main" — the handsome terra cotta brick building (ABOVE) that served forty classes until 1937. To all these alumni, "Old Main" is L-P!

A monumental man
F.W. MATTHIESSEN

To others, it is people who come immediately to mind — rather than buildings — when there's talk of the "good old days" at L-P.

People like Frederick William Matthiessen, who played a major role in the development of L-P. Our school today is really a monument to his generosity and concern for his community, whose like will never be seen again.

People like Dr. McCormack — educator, writer, counselor, innovator. He set lofty goals for L-P and put the wheels in motion to achieve them.

People like Mr. Kohin, who "opened up" L-P on September 12, 1898 and remained to inspire and charm students for 38 years.

And, of course, there were countless other people who placed their marks on students during the past 75 years.

75 Caval·years

The following is a mini-history of La Salle-Peru Township High School over these-here-now 75 years, based on dates, events and personalities.

1896: La Salle-Peru Township High School is organized under the township system, April 11.

1897: First school board elected. Thomas N. Haskins named board secretary.

1897: Not without a great deal of hasseling between the cities of La Salle and Peru as to its location, the site for a three-story, ornamental red-brick building is selected: northeast corner, Fifth and Chartres streets, La Salle.

1898: Completed in time for classes in September, "Old Main" includes classrooms, laboratories, a cafeteria and gymnasium. Regarded as a benchmark in architectural excellence.

1898: Eighty-two students enroll in the new L-P High school, September 12. Stratton D. Brooks is superintendent.

1900: Board hires first coach, Howard H. Horton, to direct its only sport — football.

1903: New school feels first growing pains when it introduces manual training and domestic science courses. New low, factory-type building to accommodate these classes is built across Chartres street from "Old Main".

1903: Charles A. Farnum, superintendent for four years, is succeeded by noted educator, Dr. Thomas J. McCormack.

1904: L-P orchestra is organized under direction of Mary Fletcher.

1905: L-P becomes first school in the nation with a potential for a four-year high school agricultural curriculum.

1912: The school receives a $75,000 contribution, four building lots and a two-story brick building from F.W. Matthiessen. Located north of "Old Main" and connected by a covered passageway, the Social Center includes a gym with an indoor running track, a swimming pool, music room and dance studios, and classrooms. Truly a community recreation center, it will be governed by L-P faculty members for nearly 30 years.

1912: With new gym facilities in the Social Center, the original gym in "Old Main" is converted into a school and community auditorium seating 700.

1913: This is a big year at L-P. On ground donated by Mrs. Matthiessen, the Hygienic Institute, a quasi-high school facility and area "health department" is established and a building erected just east of "Old Main".

1913: Howard Fellows comes to L-P. He serves as coach and athletic director until the mid-Fifties.

1917: The L-P campus takes on the appearance of a military camp. Two companies of potential "recruits" drill on the streets. Girls knit sweaters and socks for World War I "Yanks".

1918: A biology lab, reception room, kitchenette, exercise and game rooms are added to the Social Center as another gift from F.W. Matthiessen.

"75 Caval·years"

1919: "Old Main" is completely remodeled.

1922: An Oglesby branch of L-P High School is established for students there.

1923: A second story is added to the east wing of the Social Center building.

1923: An innovator, L-P establishes a Bureau of Educational Counsel, forerunner of high school guidance departments.

1924: The board of La Salle-Peru Township High School creates one of the first two-year colleges in the nation, supported solely by township funds — La Salle-Peru-Oglesby Junior College. That same year Katherine Keegan is named school board secretary.

1925: L-P graduates exceed the one-hundred mark (111) for the first time in school history.

1927: With donations totalling $400,000 from Mrs. Edo Matthiessen and Mrs. George P. Blow, descendants of F.W. Matthiessen, a handsome Gothic brick building is erected along the west side of Chartres street between Fifth and Sixth streets, providing new classrooms, laboratories and office facilities.

1927: Matthiessen Memorial auditorium is a magnificent community addition, which "surpasses in design and acoustic excellence almost any building of its kind in the state". It seats 1,300.

1930: L-P enrollment exceeds one thousand students for the first time.

1933: Fred D. Stevenson succeeds Dr. Thomas J. McCormack, who had served as L-P superintendent for 29 years.

1936: Enrollment mounts to 1,400 students. With the aid of a public works grant and a bond issue, a three-story wing is added to "New Main".

1936: A ravine is converted into a handsome football stadium with the help of WPA funds. The L-P Stadium seats 4,200 spectators for high school and community outdoor events.

1937: Dr. Frank Jensen is appointed superintendent.

1937: "Students no longer cross Chartres street at the end of each period to attend classes in both the new and the old building." The glory that had been "Old Main" passes away, and workmen begin razing the memorable structure.

1937: L-P joins the Big Seven conference. Names like "Cavaliers", "Incas" and "Aztecs" are heard for the first time. Walt Tyler takes his L-P eagles to the state tournament.

1938: To meet new state physical education requirements, taxpayers approve a bond issue for rebuilding the Social Center. Gym facilities are enlarged to accommodate 1,800 spectators.

1939: Football Coach Albert "Butch" Nowack, who ultimately wins five conference titles in nine years, puts together an unbeaten, untied season this year.

1940: The Big Seven athletic conference becomes the Big Eight.

1942: L-P enrollment nears 1,500-mark.

1946: June graduates number 311, including veterans of WWII/who take special examinations to qualify for graduation.

Alumni, former superintendents and faculty members came to the 75th anniversary open house to greet old friends, old classmates and students - to relive for a time the memories of "their" high school. Classes from 1898 through 1972 were represented among the thousand alumni signatures recorded in anniversary guest books. RIGHT Three charter members of L. P.'s High Scholarship Legion, established in 1917, were honored at this year's HSL program with gold pins. Mrs. Edna Colver, Mrs. Laura Beaumont and Walter Eich. Dr. Robert D. Pomije made the presentations.

Girls who represent L-P's spirit laboratory:

No matter the assignment, pre game build-up, extra emphasis at Homecoming and tournament time, rallies, bus trips, spirit suits, t-shirts or shirts and jackets — you'd be hard pressed to name any event where these girls are not active. At L-P, Wendy went to court Ar-Kimball, WLPD sportscaster, moved to higher ground, the Pep — it was there with a surprise party, cake and refreshments and a special going away gift. Pep club president Wendy Wright made the presentations. The man with the buckhorn, Principal William Roth.

In the Red-n-Green “spirit-formula”, the PEP CLUB works as a catalyst

L-P's 75th anniversary Open House revealed still another dimension-for-service in the Pep Club. On direction from Miss Dolores Decaroli sponsor, it suddenly turned its efforts to publicizing the community Open House. Sign-Painters produced huge window banners for downtown display. Then, they went to work on interior decorations which lined “alumni alley” greeting classes from 1899 through 1973. Other members of the Pep corps pooled resources, turning out aids to the 75th anniversary project while hardly missing-a-beat in regular spirit keeping chores

The group played the inmate-Chess club of Indiana State prison in mid-March and toured the institution. And during the BACK THEN Open House, the L-P Chess club took on all comers. It was a good year for chess.

In Memoriam

DAVID WASKIEWICZ

February 24, 1956 • December 8, 1973

Death, Be Not Proud

Death, be not proud though some have called thee
 Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so
 For those whom thou thinkst thou dost overthrow
 Die not, poor Death - nor yet canst thou kill me
 From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,
 Much pleasure, then from thee much more must flow,
 And soonest our best men with thee do go
 Rest of their bones and soul's delivery
 Thou art slave to Fate, Chance, kings and desperate men
 And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell
 And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well
 And better than thy stroke, why swellst thou then?
 One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
 And death shall be no more: Death, thou shalt die

Guidance, student services, attendance and business offices house school support-services which work directly with students and parents — keeping accurate day-to-day records of each student from entrance exams through graduation. These men and women have their hands on the pulse of L-P.

Data Processing

Class schedules, report cards, class lists, student profiles click off the electronic processors like crazy. Anne Wisniewski, John Pilarek and Harold Paterson harness the wizards — feed them the correct information and get back the tabulated summaries. This department knows all — tells all about students.

The Social Sciences: route for tuned-in students

History, psychology, contemporary affairs, sociology are all part of L-P's social sciences curricula designed to help students become aware of the world around them. Consumer Education is established as a requisite for graduation.

More variety than ever: ENGLISH electives for upperclassmen

By the baker's dozen, elective course offerings were revised and expanded this year in the English department, and juniors and seniors have taken advantage of the greater choice. There are electives ranging from drama to a study of the works of British writers, from poetry to the mechanics of sound expository writing, from a semester of reading-for-pleasure to a look at filmmaking. Course offerings are examined each year in an effort to match the ever-changing interests of L-P students.

MATH hath clath!

Forty-six "clathes" in all — covering 13 courses designed to meet the needs of every student. In fact, over half of L-P's student-body is presently enrolled in courses ranging from remedial basic arithmetic to advanced mathematics including a rather extensive introduction to the calculus. Approximately 100 students participate in the annual Mathematics Association of America testing given each spring

You'll be speaking like a native in no time

There's much more than syntax and grammar in the Foreign Language department. There's fun and excitement. There's total exploration of the customs and culture, the humanities, the conversational and reading styles of Spanish, French, German and Latin. In the recitation rooms and in the language lab. This department validates your "Passport to the World"

It takes a heap 'o livin' to make a house a home

Courses in food preparation and good nutrition, in clothes and textiles, and in family living help prepare students for a "degree" in homemaking. Still others in health and food services introduce the student to vocations in the health field and in volume foods management. All are how-to and do-it courses

FINE ARTS: really a communications-center

Some students find pleasure in translating the composer's carefully-arranged dots into a musical story. Still others get their kicks creating a message from scratch with color, line, texture and form. So when these Fine Arts instructors are heard to cry: "Sound your A . . . daaaaaah!" "Now try it in acrylics." "Sopranos, remember, hold that for a count of four." — they're trying hard to play their special roles as communications-directors for future audiences everywhere.

Shorthand, typing, record keeping, accounting — all important office skills are offered in the Business department. ## His, her and his-n-her Physical Education

Fun-n-games, good for body tone and spirit enrichment, are the order of the day — once a day, everyday — for L-P boys and girls. ## Cavaliers take five straight for a 7-3 mark in '73

The L-P Cavaliers put together its most successful football campaign in three years defeating Peoria Limestone, Ottawa, Kewanee, Dixon, Streator, Kankakee Eastridge and Mendota.

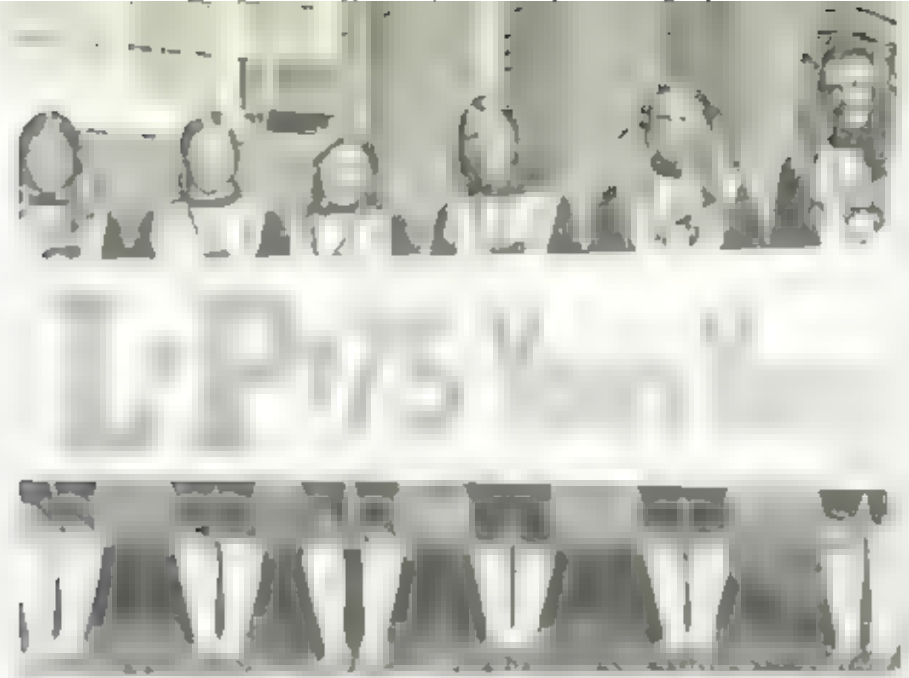

Its 7-3 win-loss record included a string of five straight, season-ending victories plus five shut-out wins on the season.

Head coach Joe Marini, completing his second year at the helm of the Cavaliers, commented: "We're really pleased with the progress we've made in the total football program and we're looking forward to the 1974 play-offs."

LEFT: Bob Holsinger (68) outflanks a pair of Tomcats for a first down. The Cavaliers made 155 first downs to their opponents' 88 in 1973.

Loveliness, liveliness and laryngitis are characteristics of most high school cheerleaders. The L-P Cavalier cheerleaders qualify at parades (Heritage Day, TOP), at pep rallies and varsity games (MIDDLE LEFT) and when they're just goofin' round (MIDDLE RIGHT). But, wherever the school action is, you'll be sure to find these young ladies.

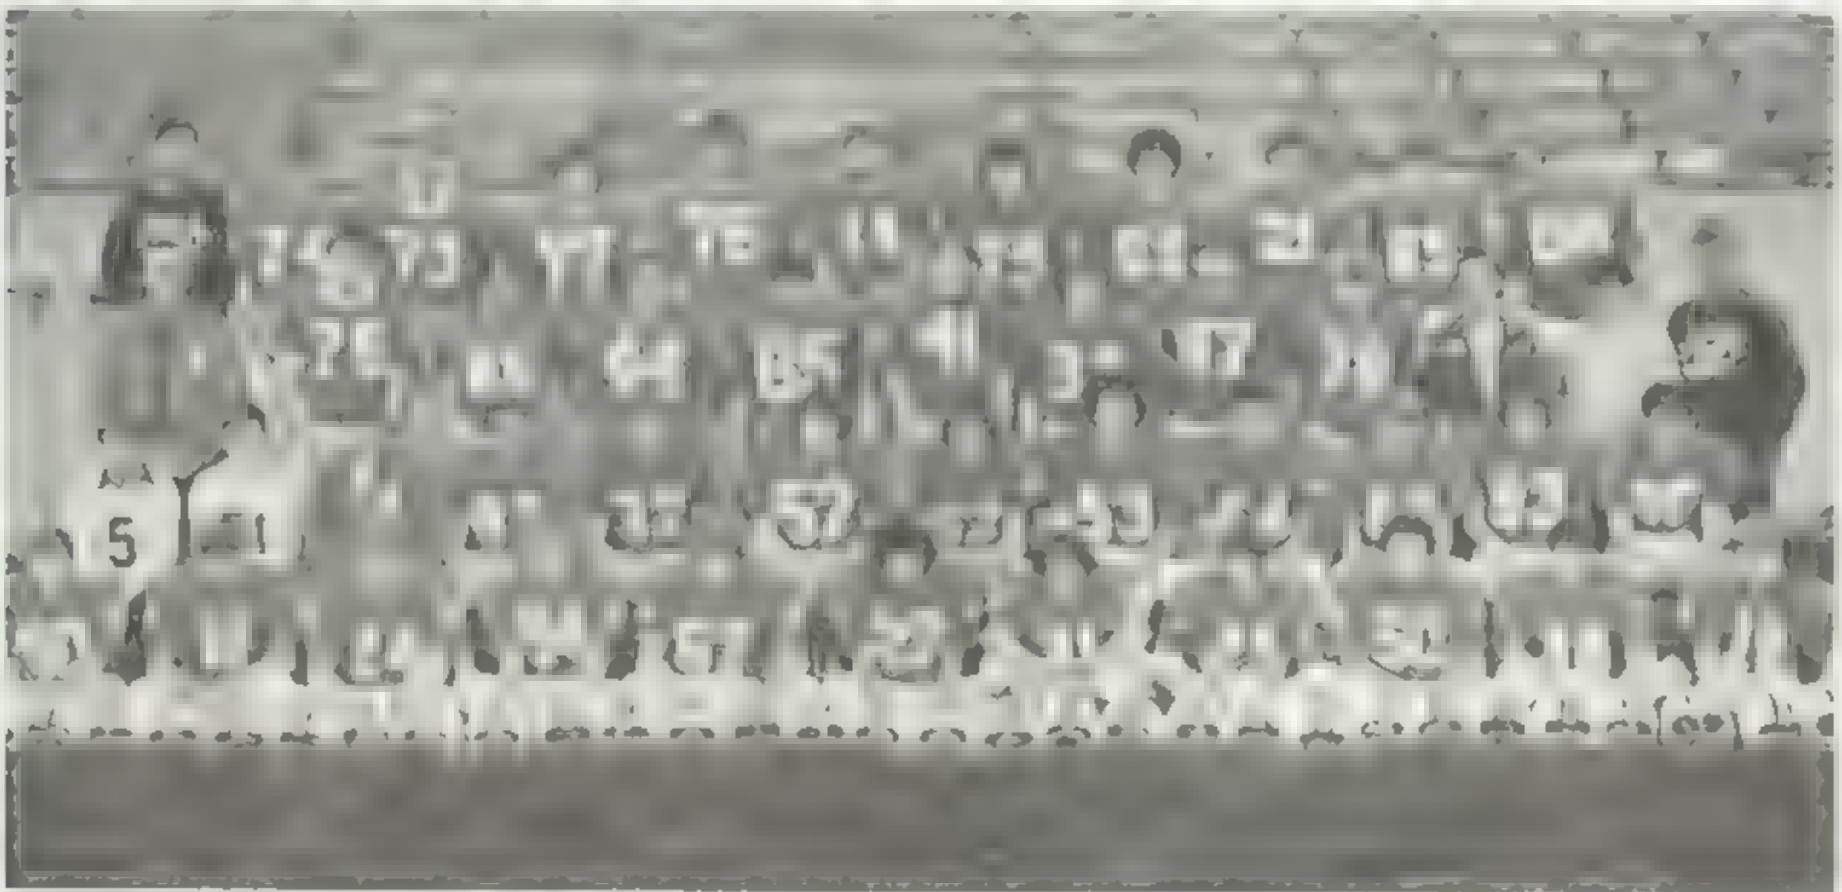

It was truly a great year for Tony Innis' Inca squad, which strung together seven wins, two losses and a tie.

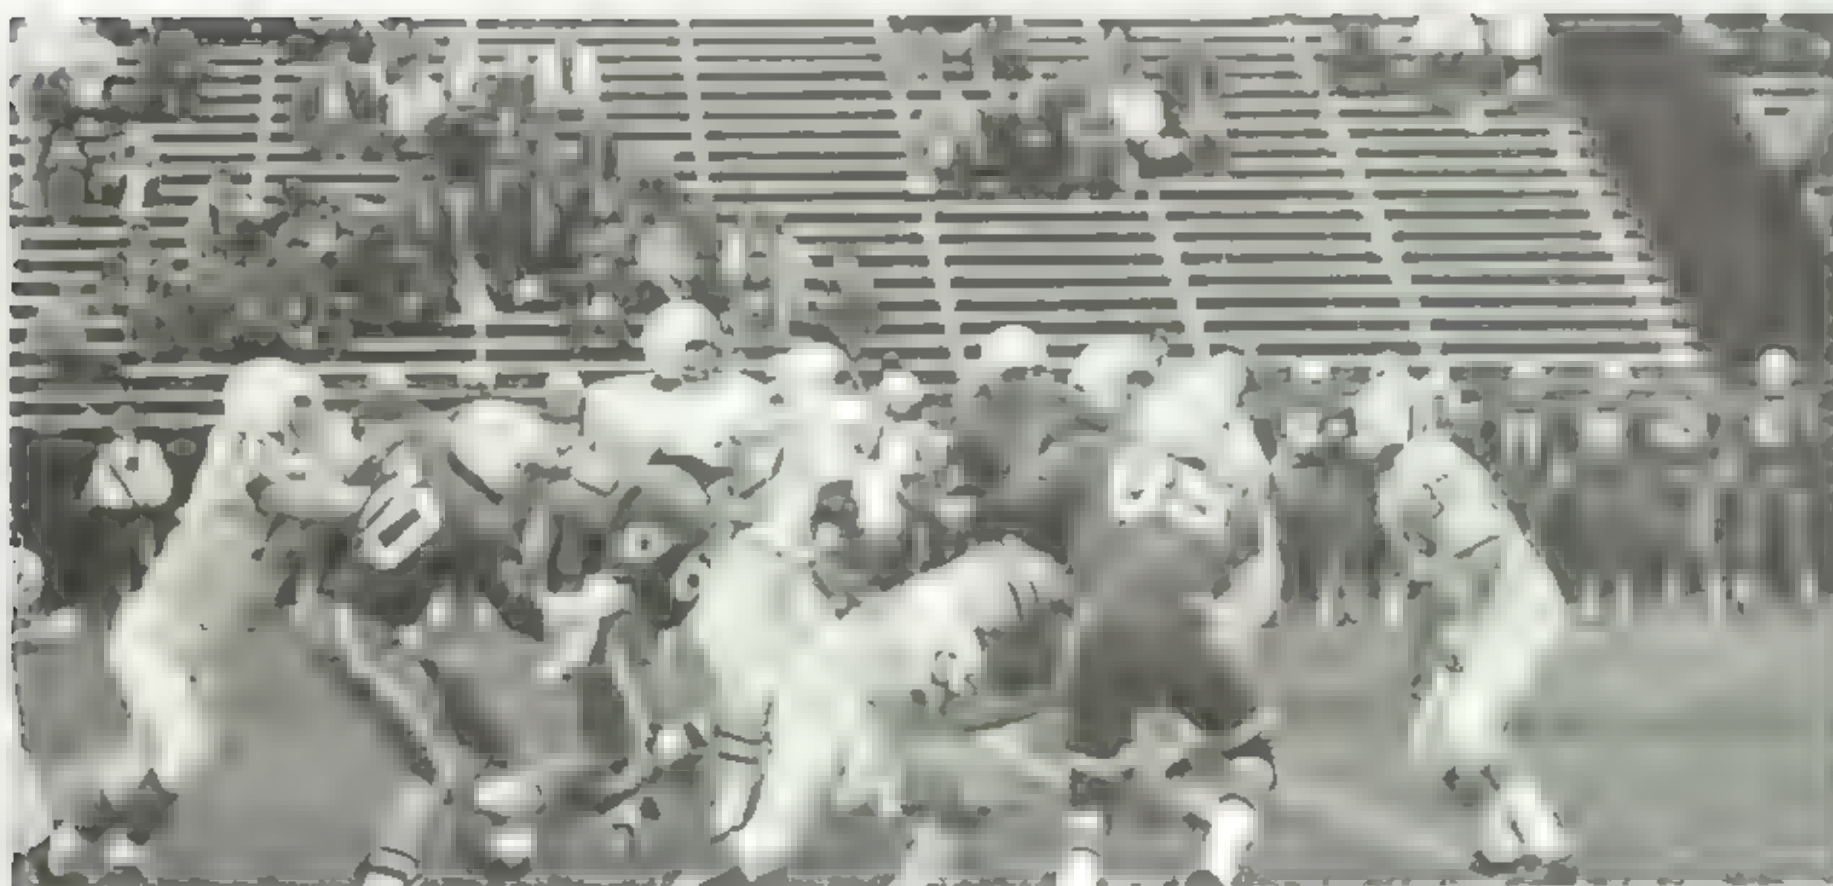

And, along the way, the L-P sophomores shut-out their opponents in the seven winning contests, scored 100 points more and had twice as many first-downs as competition while muscling their way for 2,097 yards-gained on the ground and in the air.

Ed Merriman and Keith Harvey combined for the lion's share of the scoring — Merriman with eight touchdowns and three PAT's; Harvey with seven T.D.'s and two extra points

Coach Innis viewed the season as a "solid team effort" in which "desire spelled the difference".

Aztecs post a spirited 4-3-1 season

"Even though we lost three games, we were in every one of them," commented head coach Joe Vasquez about the 1973 Aztec football season. He pointed out that the losses were by a total of only 16 points.

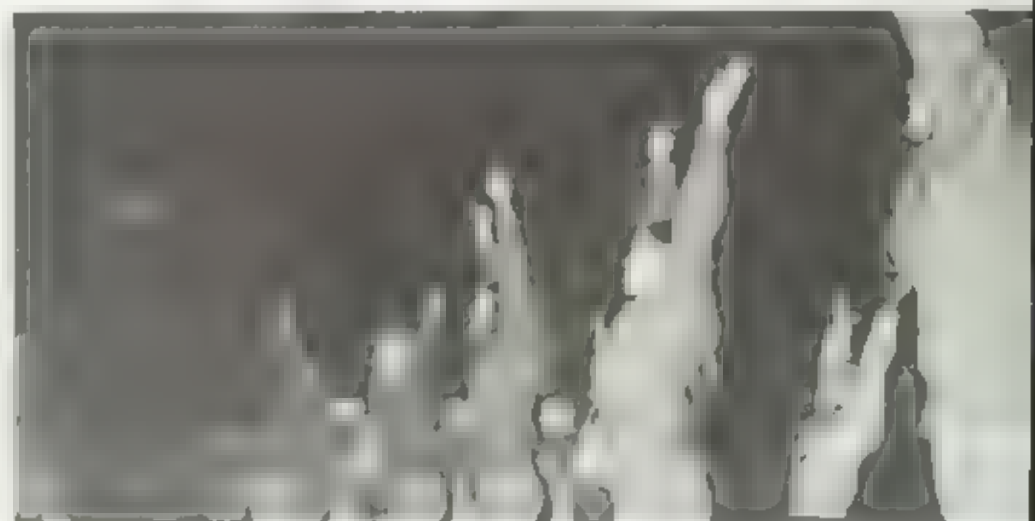

Ron Franklin scored an even 100 points on 13 T.D.'s and 22 points-after. On 107 carries, Andy Rios averaged a mighty 6.96 yards. And, the team developed a respectable four wins, three losses and a tie.

"I'm certain our freshmen will avenge those losses as sophomore and varsity performers later on," Vasquez said.

Here "Cross Country" is Spelled with a capital "G" . . .

Running cross-country is a lonely, solitary effort. It takes real GUTS to force yourself up the final hill — the last 300 yards — to meet self-imposed GOALS. There's only individual, GRUELING output that results in total exhaustion — and the satisfaction that you've done your best! This year, under the supervision of new coach, GERALD GARRETSON, both L-P cross country teams had a super-G-Gr-Gr-GREAT year!

Our pompon girls have come of age

L.P.'s Cavaliers performed for the very first time at the Homecoming football game, October 12, 1966, under the direction of Miss Mary Stevens. Girls L.P. instructor, Darryl Fetters was band director. The Cavaliers' trip were described as a "novelty precision group of 16 girls".

Today's Cavaliers are 20 members strong. They work hard at their craft, practicing during the summer months. They perform at least five football and nine basketball home games. The Cavaliers, shown here, brightened each game, in gridiron and gym. Under the direction of Miss Cheryl Moore and choreographers, Joan Mattinger and Debbie Skerston (adjoining page).

PRINCETON — L-P High school won its opener, Season No. 11 and in the process advanced to Friday night's championship of the Princeton Class AA Regional tournament by putting the gun to the head of the host Tigers and mercifully ending their season 79-46 here Tuesday. The defeat stretched Princeton's most recent losing streak to eight in a row and put their final record at 11 losses to go with just four victories.

EAST MOLINE — The state's fourth-ranked high school basketball team, Freeport, rode the 35-point performance of all-state candidate Tom Norman to an 81-71 victory over L-P here Wednesday in the second game of the Class AA Sectional tournament that concluded the Cavaliers' season at 22-5.

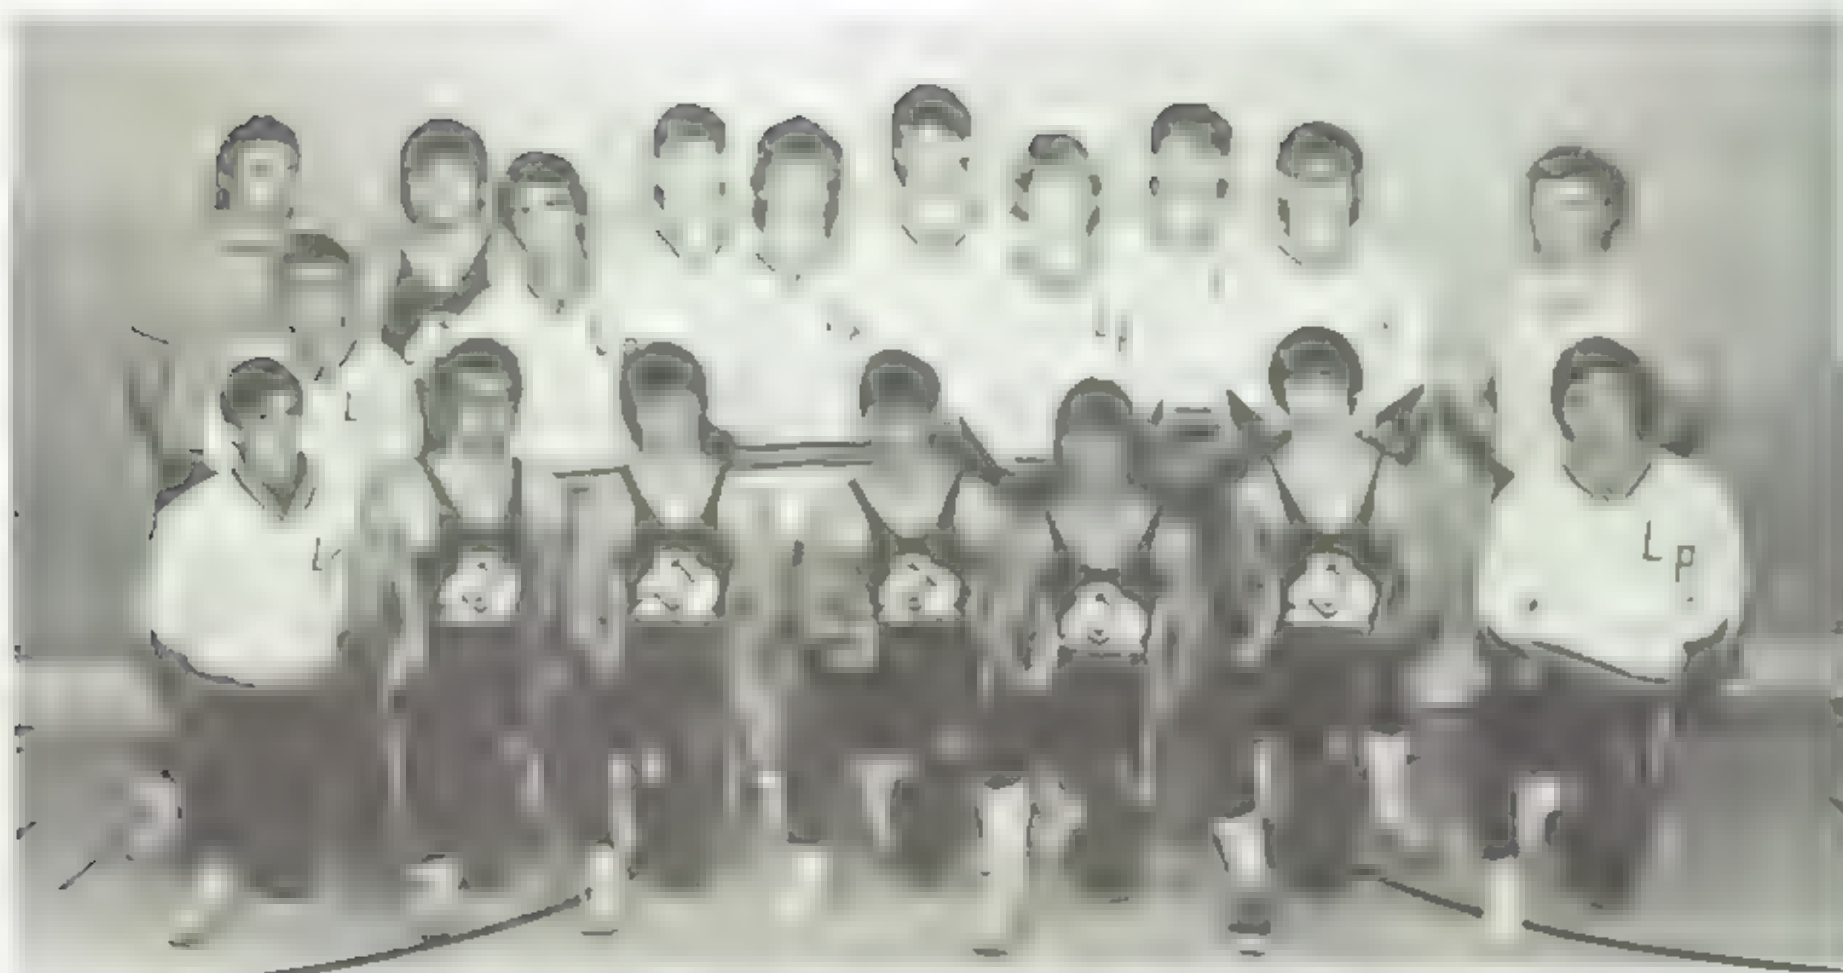

Norman, a 6-1 senior guard, was everything everybody said he would be as he put on a dazzling display of shooting both from the field and the free throw line. He made 11 of 19 shots and converted all 13 of his free throw attempts, but even that wasn't enough to garner him game scoring honors. That went to L-P's senior forward Denny Trompeter, who closed out his varsity career in the uniform of the Red and Green by pouring 38 points thru the hoop. Trompeter hit on 18 of 35 shots for all of his points and had 18 in one quarter alone, the second.

L-P's Randy Parker went up for a shot while Freeport's Ron London, No. 52, and All-Stater Tom Norman, No. 14, positioned for the rebound in the Cavaliers' 81-71 loss Wednesday night in sectional competition in East Moline. L-P ended the campaign 22-5.

You've come a long way, baby

In the beginning, L-P '74's Jimmy Jimmy Class was on like all the rest — bewildered by the national scene, shaken by sheer numbers of students and the swagger of upperclassmen. And, according to tradition, the boys were shorter than the girls. They jelled almost immediately into a united, independent group sustained by the belief that they were somehow the best class ever to hit Fifth and Chartrand. They courageously blundered through situations which often proved this to be so. Set-backs and they had their share — seemed only to enrich and develop them. Now, nearly 750 L-P school-days later, these Senior graduates in mature and polished unit certain to have laid its own distinctive brand on those students who follow.

Contents

The image shows an open book with two pages visible. Both pages are filled with dense, handwritten text in a cursive script. The text is arranged in approximately 15-20 lines per page. The left page has a large, dark, irregular mark near the top left corner, possibly a stain or a piece of tape. The right page has a large, dark, irregular mark near the top right corner, possibly a stain or a piece of tape. The overall image is very dark and has a high level of contrast, making the text completely illegible.

Seventy-five CAVAL-YEARS

By far, the most popular single activity at our BACK THEN Open House this year was "yearbook-watching". Hundred of students and friends of L.P. swarmed over the ELL ESS PE books on display in the library. These yearbooks seemed to become tangible links with their high school days.

We hope our ELL ESS PE will become your personal diary of events and activities, which crowded this school year, and a record of the people who made things happen around you.

Before L.P.'s one hundredth anniversary rolls around, we hope you'll refer to this edition a hundred times for information and pure pleasure.

We heartily thank the members of the yearbook staff, pictured on pages 44-45, for their work — often tedious. We appreciate the assistance of everyone who has helped us reach page 239 with some degree of success.

And, it all would be meaningless without YOUR support of ELL ESS PE.
